

Artificial intelligence is reshaping the built environment sector. In this new landscape, competitive advantage will go beyond technology adoption – it requires leadership to drive the change and convert AI intelligence into tangible enterprise value.

Join senior leaders from Singapore's public and private sectors at LEAD Summit 2026 as we address the critical leadership decisions required to navigate this new landscape in the areas of strategic business model redesign, enhanced delivery capabilities and ecosystem partnership:

- How to prioritise value-creating capabilities in AI-driven markets
- How to transition from project delivery to a focus on business outcomes
- Where to invest in strategic partnership to yield maximum impact
